

Across California counties, 60 to 100% of low-income children and youth are missing out on summer lunches. These are children that benefit from free or reduced-price lunches during the school year but not during the summer.

Data Tables*

This table includes a county-by-county summary of summer and school meal data from 2016.

* Please note that the following numbers should not be compared to findings from reports prior to 2016 due to a substantial change in methodology.
